Weekly Gospel Reflection Reflexión semanal del evangelio

In this Gospel, Mark addresses the question of which Jewish practices would also be observed in the newly emerging Christian community. This was a significant question for the early Christian Church, especially in communities that included both Jewish and Gentile converts to Christianity. We also hear this question addressed in the letters of Paul with regard to table fellowship. In Gospel passages such as the one today, we see the Gospel evangelists finding justification for a Christian practice distinct from Judaism in the remembrances of Jesus' teaching and the practice of his first disciples.

Jesus first criticizes the Pharisees for putting human tradition above God's Law. Here, Jesus is referring to the tradition of the elders, the teachings of the Pharisees, which extended the ritual-purity laws of Temple worship to everyday Jewish life. Jesus criticizes the Pharisees for making this tradition equal to and as binding as the Law of Moses.

Next, Jesus comments on the meaning behind the Pharisees' language of holiness—clean and unclean. Jesus teaches that a person is not defiled by the food that enters his or her body, but rather by sin that emerges from his or her words and actions. In this teaching, Jesus unmasks a deeper question behind the one posed to him by the Pharisees. The real issue is holiness, which is not found in external acts alone. Holiness comes from within and is evidenced in the actions and attitudes that emerge from a person's life.

Jesus' words challenge us as well. In our desire to show that we are holy, we might also give too much credence to externals, following rules without thinking about the intention behind them. Jesus reminds us that we do not make ourselves holy by our actions. Rather, we become holy when we allow God's Spirit to transform us. Our actions should be an expression of the conversion of our heart to God and to God's ways.

En este evangelio, Marcos aborda la cuestión de qué prácticas judías también se observarían en la nueva comunidad cristiana emergente. Esta fue una pregunta importante para la Iglesia cristiana primitiva, especialmente en comunidades que incluían tanto judíos como gentiles conversos al cristianismo. También escuchamos esta pregunta abordada en las cartas de Pablo con respecto a la comunión en la mesa. En pasajes del Evangelio como el de hoy, vemos a los evangelistas encontrar justificación para una práctica cristiana distinta del judaísmo en los recuerdos de las enseñanzas de Jesús y la práctica de sus primeros discípulos.

Jesús primero critica a los fariseos por anteponer la tradición humana a la Ley de Dios. Aquí, Jesús se refiere a la tradición de los ancianos, las enseñanzas de los fariseos, que extendieron las leyes de pureza ritual del culto en el Templo a la vida judía cotidiana. Jesús critica a los fariseos por hacer que esta tradición sea igual y tan vinculante como la Ley de Moisés.

A continuación, Jesús comenta sobre el significado detrás del lenguaje de santidad de los fariseos: limpio e inmundo. Jesús enseña que una persona no se contamina por el alimento que entra en su cuerpo, sino por el pecado que emerge de sus palabras y acciones. En esta enseñanza, Jesús desenmascara una pregunta más profunda detrás de la que le plantearon los fariseos. La verdadera cuestión es la santidad, que no se encuentra únicamente en los actos externos. La santidad viene del interior y se evidencia en las acciones y actitudes que emergen de la vida de una persona.

Las palabras de Jesús también nos desafían. En nuestro deseo de mostrar que somos santos, también podemos dar demasiado crédito a lo externo, siguiendo reglas sin pensar en la intención detrás de ellas. Jesús nos recuerda que no nos santificamos con nuestras acciones. Más bien, nos volvemos santos cuando permitimos que el Espíritu de Dios nos transforme. Nuestras acciones deben ser expresión de la conversión de nuestro corazón a Dios y a los caminos de Dios.

On Tuesday, September 24th, we will be beginning monthly Parish Faith Formation Nights held on the fourth Tuesday of each month. Along with parishioners of the Cathedral of St. Andrew all are invited to join Father Juan and Father Joseph in an evening of formation and prayer. After the 6 pm Mass there will be time for dinner and fellowship in the cafeteria, then studies in groups and concludes with a communal prayer. Individuals preparing for marriage, involved in the Parish Religious Education program, and liturgical ministers are required to attend. One of the main purposes for our coming together is to form a community as we grow in our faith together.

FEAST DAY OF ST. GREGORY THE GREAT SEPTEMBER 3RD FIESTA DE SAN GREGORIO MAGNO 3 DE SEPTIEMBRE

St. Gregory the Great, a central figure of the medieval western Church and one of the most admired Popes in history, is commemorated on September 3rd. St. Gregory built monasteries in Sicily and Rome and, at the age of 35, took up the monastic life. He was Pope in 590 until his death in 604. The Latin inscription on this window is "A mirror for monks, the delights of the world." This window is the one on the right side of the main nave closest to the altar.
